

Part 1: The Actual Condition of the Global Environment

“This year will be the last chance to save the earth.”

-- Mostafa Tolba, Ex. Director General, United Nations Environment Program

“We still have a chance. But we don't have time to make the same mistakes again.” ( Earth Summit 1992)

-- Morris Strong, Ex. Secretary General, United Nations Conference on Environment and Development

Our global environment is in a worse state than is generally known. Inside is information from the United Nations, Governments' white papers on the environment, standards data and the such.
